what is Difference Between us and web site like us ?

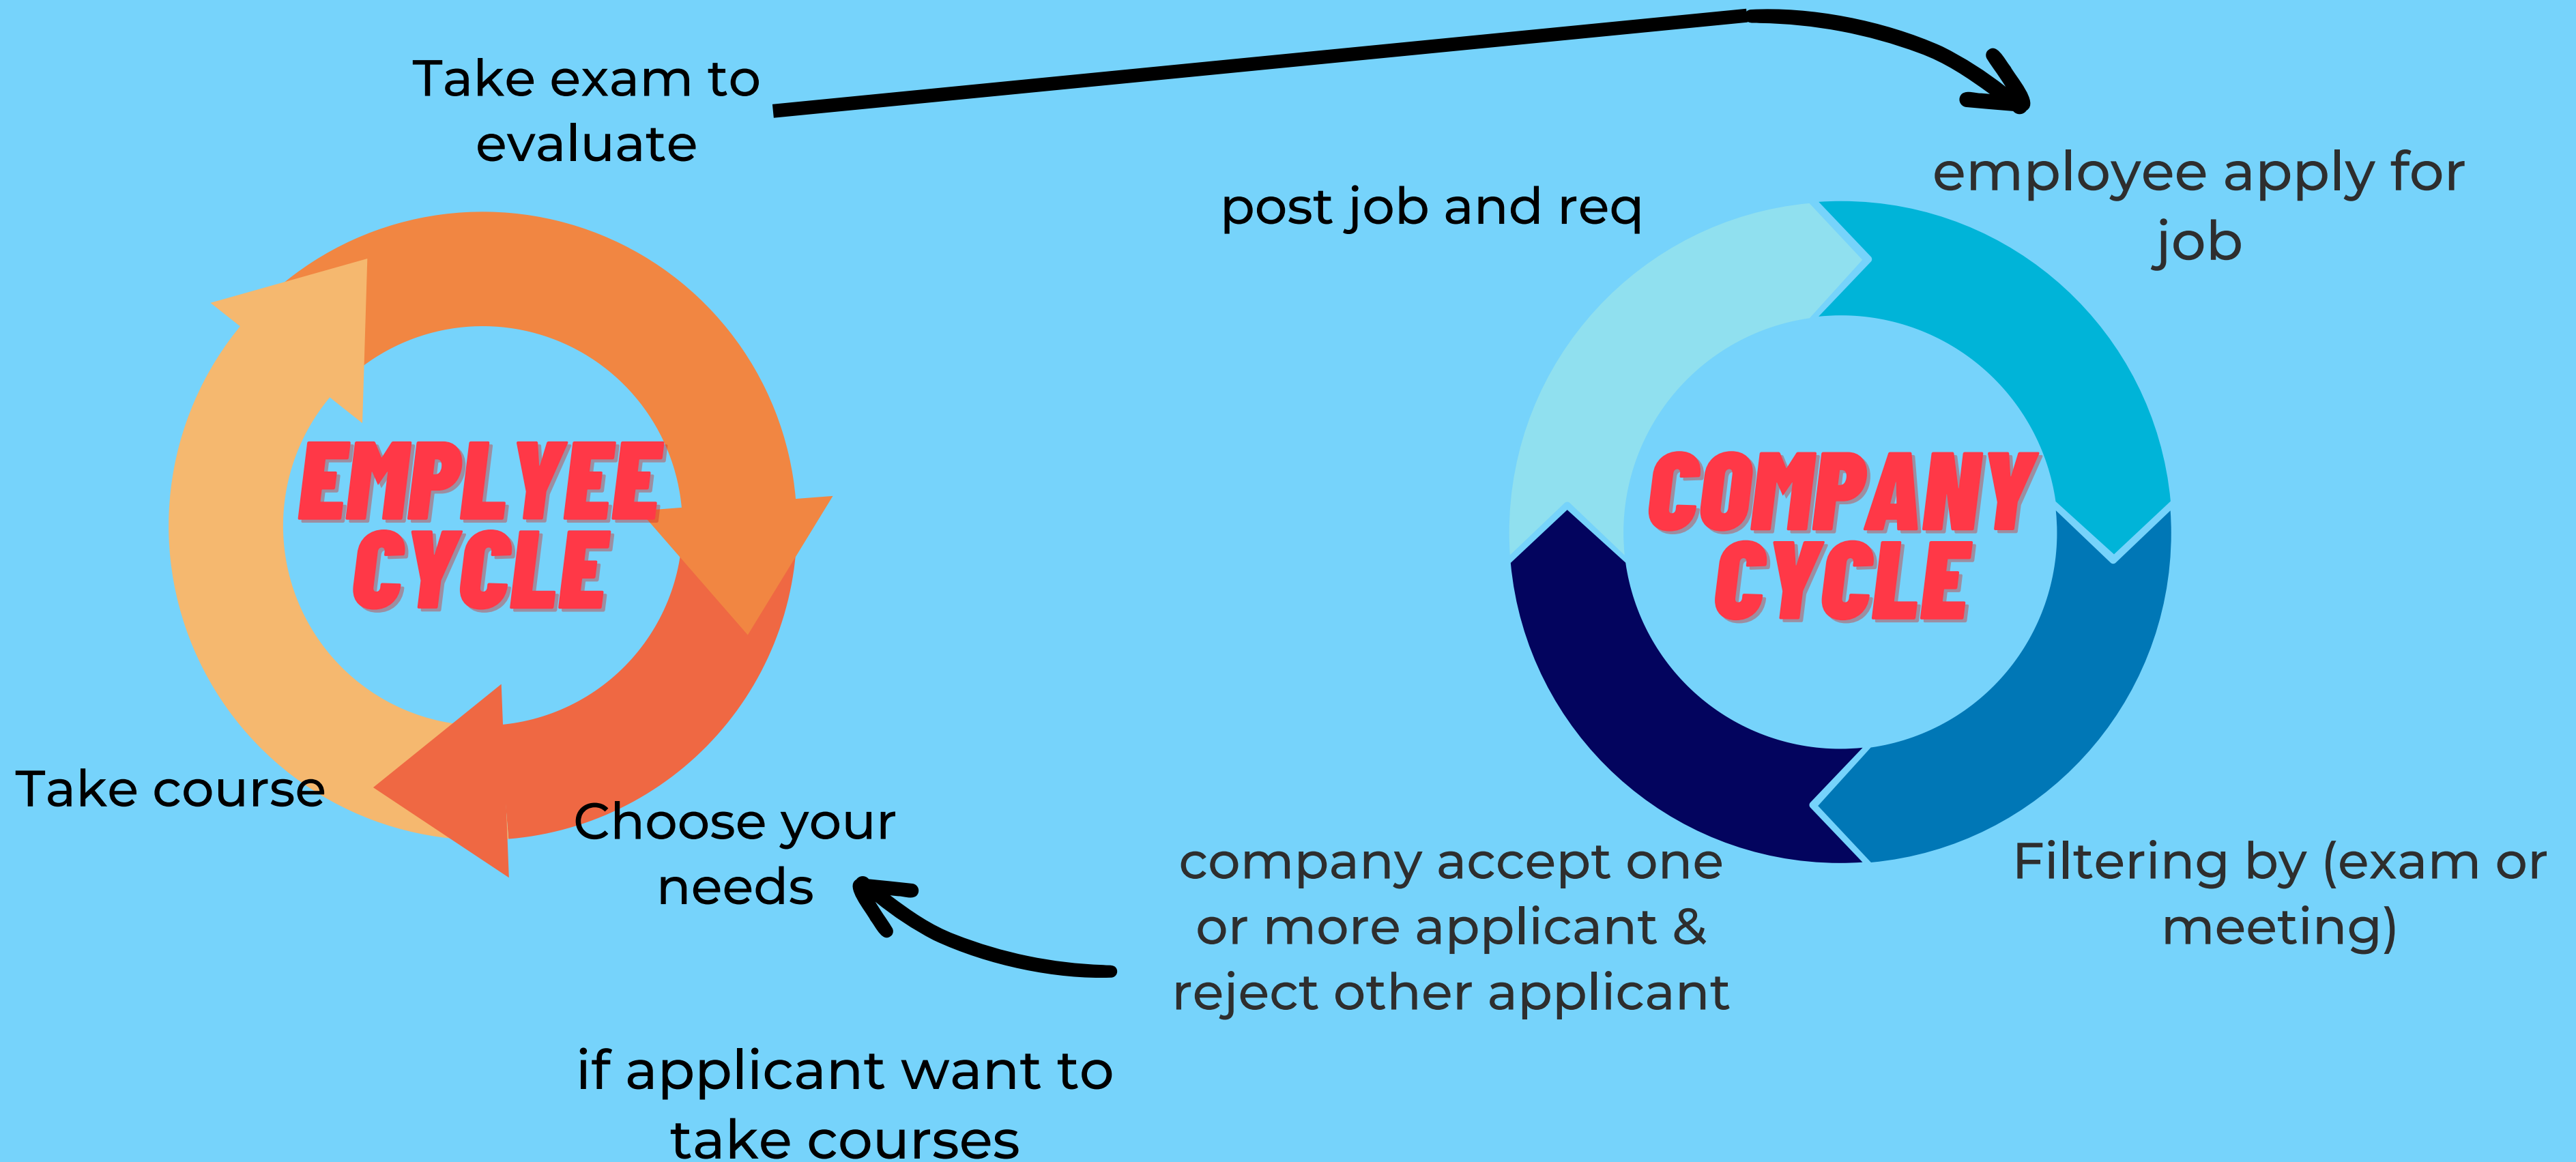

● Our website

Our website serves as a platform where individuals can apply as both job-seeking employees and HR representatives looking for new talent. Additionally, if an employee is currently unemployed, they can utilize our recommended courses to enhance their skills. Thus, our website provides a fertile ground for employees, companies, and students to stay updated on the latest job requirements and opportunities.

● Websites like us

On other websites, you have the option to apply as an instructor, offering your services to potential students. The site's administration will then assess your application and decide whether to hire you or not. Similarly, students can apply to enroll in courses taught by instructors who have been hired by the site's administrators.
